About the Cayce/Reilly School of Massotherapy

The Cayce/Reilly School excels at offering students of all ages a holistic learning environment in the growing field of massage therapy. The school's unique curriculum provides students with the leading-edge technical information and knowledge they must have in order to become professional massage therapists, while drawing upon the wealth of insights on holism, healing, and personal transformation contained in the Edgar Cayce material.

The mission of the staff and faculty of the Cayce/Reilly School is to offer a quality, comprehensive education in both the art and science of massage therapy based on the holistic principles of the Edgar Cayce readings and in the spirit of Dr. Harold J. Reilly. The school supports the Association for Research and Enlightenment's mission to change lives for the better through the concepts in the Cayce readings.
